3 FLEE FROM PRISON; HOLD FOUR AT FARM

BELLEFONTE, Pa. (AP) — Three escaped convicts, armed with guns and clubs, held four persons captive in a farm home about three miles west of here Wednesday night before fleeing in a stolen car.

State police threw up road blocks and searched over a wide area of central Pennsylvania for the armed convicts. The three escaped from the Rockview State Penitentiary here Wednesday by walking away from a fruit picking detail outside the prison walls.

State police reported that three men, answering description of the escaped convicts, held up two attendants of a gasoline station at Dauphin five miles north of Harrisburg at 2 a.m. today, robbing them of $100 and fled in an automobile.

Used Old Rifle

In the Dauphin holdup state police said the trio used an old model 22 caliber rifle. They locked the attendants in a storage room before fleeing.

State police said the escapees stayed about two hours Wednesday night at the home of Morris E. Witmer, 59, Bellefonte R. D. 1. The four were threatened with death if they did not cooperate with the convicts but were not harmed, troopers said.

Frank Johnston, warden of the Rockview Prison, identified the escapees as: William C. Ritchey, 26, Clarion County; Kenneth J. Wagner, 27, Allegheny County, and Dallas Gustafson, 26, Philadelphia.

Witmer said the convicts came to his home while he, his daughter, Barbara, 17, and Miss DeMaris Knox, who lives with them, were at the hospital visiting Mrs. Witmer.

The escapees forced Charles Messmer, 59, a hired man, to wait with them until the three returned from the hospital, he said.

"They said we had to do exactly what they said or they would kill us," Messmer reported.

OFFICER FILES INNOCENT PLEA

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP) — First Lt. Gerald L. Wheatley, 23, of Bridgeton, N.J., pleaded innocent today to three charges of assault and battery, two of conduct unbecoming an officer and one of malting recruits.

Wheatley's general court-martial is the third in two weeks as results of rugged punishment imposed on recruits in the training company he commanded at this Army post last summer.

Convicted previously were M. Sgt. George Sovie, 20, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., and Sgt. I.C. Charles Moman, 28, of Empire, Ala. Each was reduced one grade in rank and fined $450 and $300 respectively.

Sovie, top sergeant in the recruit company commanded by Wheatley, claimed that Wheatley, 1956 graduate of the Citadel, South Carolina's military college, failed to assume the disciplinary and other duties that were his responsibility.

Thirty young trainees testified at the Sovie and Moman courts-martial that they had been forced bodily into mess hall grease traps and made to shout obscene phrases.

Deny Ike Takes Stand On Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House denies President Eisenhower has taken any stand on whether California should wipe out its tax exemption for parochial and other private schools. Vice President Nixon describes as "falseification . . . at its worst" any suggestion that he backs such a move.

The announcement of the administration leaders' position came late Wednesday on the heels of word that the Federal Communications Commission and the FBI had had complaints about California broadcasts on the subject.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said more than 50 telegrams had been received at the White House protesting the broadcasts which implied that Eisenhower and Nixon favored a proposal to cancel the tax exemption.

Hagerty would not discuss the content of the broadcasts, but he said there was an implication as to the stand of Eisenhower and Nixon.

surface, but the rescue crews kept digging.

Then Wednesday rescue crews stumbled on a broken air pipe leading to the entombed men and heard the muffled voice of Gorley Kempt, 37, say

"Get Us Water"

"There are 12 of us here, come and get us. Get us water."

Soon after the men got their first sustenance in at least four days. Coffee laced with sugar and vitamins was fed to the men through a copper tube inserted in the air pipe.

The men waited while the rescue crews dug through about 60 feet of debris. Then a hole appeared in the wall of rubble that had trapped the men and the rescuers appeared.

"We are all so happy to see them the whole bunch of us just started to cry," Guthro said.

The rescue raised hopes that other pockets of survivors would be found in the depths where miners still are missing.

93 Lives Saved

Their rescue brought to 93 the number saved. Twenty-six bodies have been recovered. There were 174 men below when disaster struck.

The news Wednesday that 12 men had been located alive electrified the town, scene of two mine disasters in as many years. Church bells rang. Horns honked. Stores emptied. Families came running to the mine in a drizzle of rain, hoping and fearing.

Among them were those who already knew their men had died in the mine.

Even as they waited two more bodies were brought out from elsewhere in the mine.

Kempt already had whispered to his nephew Percy Weatherbee, the man who had tapped the air line with his pick, the names of the men trapped with him — Holloway, Brine, Leadbetter, Hunter, Rushton, Milley, Michnaike, Maddison, Lowther, Guthro, McDonald.

"Need Water Badly"

"I asked, 'How are you?' and Gorley answered, 'We're good but we need water badly,'" Weatherbee reported.

The rescuers, some near exhaustion from almost continuous efforts since Thursday, dug again with superenergy.

They clawed and picked at the nearly 60-foot-thick barrier of upturned stone and debris.

As the men dug, warm coffee braced with sugar and vitamins was poured down the air line to the thirsty, trapped men. Finally, a narrow passage was opened and shored up and the imprisoned men began to crawl out.

Family Sees Rescue

Slowly the conveyor rake which normally brings up the coal began to turn, this time to bring the rescued men to the surface. There was an unexplained halt for a time, then, at 2:20 a.m., some 18 hours after the discovery. Kemp was the first man brought out.

Completely covered with a blanket to protect him from the weather and to shield his eyes from the glare of television and newsreel spotlights, he was carried to an ambulance and rushed to the hospital. Waiting at the pit head were his wife and two teenage children.

Crowd Cheers

The crowd cheered wildly. The big wheels of the cable-operated conveyor moved at an agonizing pace for the crowd.

Rope barriers kept them back. Floodlights bathed the scene. Doctors waited.

Finally, an hour after Kemp was brought out, the man-carrying rake arrived at the top with Joe McDonald, who had suffered a broken leg. Theodore Michnaike and Eldred Lowther.

Then in succession came Bowman Maddison, Levi Miller, Caleb Rushton, Wilfred Hunter, Hugo Guthro, who also was injured, Harold Brine, Joe Holloway Jr. and Larry Leadbetter.

Jeffrey Brown entertained a number of friends at a Halloween party Wednesday evening at his home in Biglerville. Prizes were awarded to the following costumed guests: Most original, Paul Bishop; most hideous, Jim Bosserman, and ugliest, Edwin Taylor. Games were played and refreshments served.

The Children's Department of the Bendersville Methodist Church School will hold a Halloween party Friday evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock at the Bendersville Community Hall. All children are asked to attend in costume.

"THE NEW SEASON"

This is the season for long walks . . . over field and stream . . . when the land begins to wear . . . a different color scheme . . . this is the time for sweet sojourns . . . out in the open air . . . shelving the weary old routine . . . leaving behind all care . . . this is the pensive portion . . . golden space in the year . . . for solid meditation . . . that locks out every fear . . . this is the wake up period when you can do your best . . . even though Mother Nature . . . readies for winter rest . . . this is the new beginning . . . season of moving fast . . . but I confess my thoughts embrace . . . things of the summer past.

McCleary was the first witness called Tuesday morning as Judge Chauncey M. Dwyer renewed hearing of evidence in the matter. Previous hearings had been held early in September and earlier this month.

90-year-old man living alone on a meager pension lost his rural home at a sheriff's sale Wednesday. But the woman who bought it firmly told him he could live there until his death.

Miss Rose Farber was an unexpected bidder for the three-story stone house and 18 surrounding acres where Cadwallader Clegg has lived for 50 years.

Quietly announcing her bids, she finally got the home and land for $10,000. Clegg's creditor bowed out at $9,700. Miss Farber said she represented a real estate investment company. She didn't say what the company plans to do with the rundown property.

But she told the men gathered at the county courthouse for the sale: "Mr. Clegg will be allowed to occupy the house as long as he likes to roam with his beloved animals."

Last month Montgomery County Judge Harold G. Knight authorized the sheriff's sale—and Miss Farber showed up.

Mars Leaves Thousands Panicky:
New York, October 31 (AP)—A horrible fantasy of war waged on the United States by fearsome, space-conquering men from Mars brought near panic to that part of the nation's radio audience which was tuned in Sunday night on Charlie McCarthy's rival radio program.

In the double-quick tempo of the news broadcasters, the fiction of a Columbia Broadcasting Co. program became so realistic that hysteria prevailed among listeners throughout the United States and Canada.

Demands for investigation and correction came apace today with the belated reports of almost fantastic panic.

Some apartment houses in New York were emptied hurriedly by frantic listeners to the program and by second and third hand accounts that multiplied the impending peril.

A woman in Pittsburgh tried suicide, saying "I'd rather die this way than like that."

At a high point in the program the electric power failed at Concrete, Washington, a town of 1,000, and lights went out in most of the homes. Many thought the invasion had reached the west coast. Women fainted and men prepared to take their families to the mountains.

Switchboards in newspaper offices and police stations everywhere were swamped with calls from terrified people, many of them weeping.

Some reported they could smell the gas and see the flames started by the attackers. People gathered in groups to pray for salvation.

All over the metropolitan area panicky persons jumped into their automobiles and headed for the open spaces to escape the hypothetical bombing of New York.

The broadcast was an adaptation of H. G. Wells' imaginative "War of the Worlds," further dramatized and enacted by Orson Wells, the 23-year-old Broadway theatrical prodigy. Wells Americanized the locale and situations.

Four times during the program, C. B. S. pointed out, the announcer stressed that the story was nothing but fiction.

Residents of Gettysburg and Adams county were concerned over the "raid from Mars" dramatization that they heard broadcast along with the other parts of the nation Sunday evening.

Neighbors rushed from house to house inquiring if their radios carried the "raid" program, while others simply stopped listening after hearing some of the "gruesome" details.

Reports of an increased number of telephone calls to out-of-town places especially points in New Jersey where the "raid" centered, also were reported.

Today's TalkLEARNING FROM THE HUMBLE

I have often wondered why it was that Jesus took with Him in His ministry mostly those who were humble folk. I have always been interested in the workers along the shores near the ocean, the fisher people and those earning their living from the sea. They are intelligent and friendly workers. I have known many personally, and have been the better for such friendships.

I care not as to the work a man does, for so long as it is honest, he deserves our confidence and thanks. All work is dignified and worthy. Even the humblest worker deserves our notice and our interest. I have learned a great deal from these humble, uncomplaining workers. They are good citizens. Their acquaintance is worth our effort to learn more about their homes and family, for we owe them so much.

There is a lot of difference between the uneducated and the intelligent. I always learn something to my profit, after talking with those who work out in the big open spaces, and those in the humbler walks of life. I have gotten many an idea from a good taxi driver. I honor a man who will take such a job, after having a better one, which was taken from him because of illness.

As a youth I was interested in all sorts of work, and was probably a nuisance in many a carpenter shop, harness shop, and local newspaper plant. However the owners of these places were very kind to me and taught me many a useful trick. To the harness shop I took my baseballs to sew the covers on — and how I loved the smell of the fresh harness hanging all over the place. Time and change have shovved such shops into the discard, including the highly honored blacksmith shops! Long live such memories.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Learn To Be Patient."

Just FolksTHINK FOR YOURSELF

Who does your thinking for you, little man?

Whose brains are you dependent on today?

Who solves for you life's purpose and its plan?

What people form the prayers you nightly say?

Have you a reason for the faith you hold?

Except that So and So has made it known?

Are your opinions views that you've been told?

Have you no thoughts that are your very own?

Think for yourself; the man who does so wins,

For you are steward of your soul on earth.

You be the judge of virtues and of sins.

You be the one to say what is worth.

God didn't put you here to merely live.

To dumbly follow where another leads;

To all, the power of reasoning did He give—

Then why be bound to narrow forms and creeds?

Follow another if your judgment tells.

That where he goes you, too, would choose to tread.

But if against him once your mind rebels,

You are to solve life's mystery for you;

He answers only for himself alone.

You be the judge of what is false and true;

Be not afraid to tread the vast unknown.

Highest estimates on the crop place it at 2,500,000 bushels, about equal to the 1937 yield.

CLAIMS STATE LOST $7,210 IN CINDERS DEAL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A report which said the Commonwealth apparently was defrauded of $7,210 in Fayette County for the purchase and transportation of cinders has been made public by Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith.

The report released by Smith Wednesday was made in August by one of his auditors after examination of weight slips and other records in the county.

The report said that statements from State Highways Department employees "unquestionably establish a pattern which supports the belief that irregularities and fraud have been perpetrated against the Commonwealth."

Smith turned the report over to Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride two months ago. The Justice Department decided comment pending completion of its own investigation into Fayette County cinder purchases.

21-Page Report

The 21-page report dealt principally with the technical proceedings in the purchase of cinders and rental of trucks to haul them during a two-year period ending in February 1957.

In February 1955, it said, 10,000 tons of cinders were ordered from the Ruane Coal & Coke Co., Fairchance, Fayette County, at 15 cents a ton, but that more than half of this order was paid for but not delivered at a loss to the state of $865.

"Based upon the cost to the state for truck service not rendered coupled with the cost of un-delivered cinders it was reasonably apparent that the state was defrauded of approximately $2,700," the report said.

This same pattern was followed in another 10,000-ton order of cinders from the Ruane firm in January 1956, the report said. The loss to the state on this order, it said, amounted to $3,700.

In November 1956 a third 10,000-ton order resulted in a loss to the state of $810, the report showed.

SPORTS

Waynesboro To Oppose Warriors Here Friday; Canners, Delone At Home

Gettysburg High (2-3-1) goes after its second straight football victory when it entertains Waynesboro (2-5) here Friday evening in a South Penn Conference game at 8 o'clock. Fathers of varsity squad members will be guests of the Athletic Department at the game.

Biglerville (0-5-1) will be host to West York (1-5) Friday on the Canners' field as both teams strive to salvage part of rough seasons.

Delone (5-2), and with a four-game winning streak, battles Cumberland Valley (5-1-1) at McSherrystown in what may turn out to be a very tight affair. That game is also scheduled for 8 o'clock Friday evening.

Littlestown (6-1), newly crowned Laurel Conference titlist, seeks its seventh successive triumph Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock against Northern (0-5-1) at Dillsburg.

In other games of local interest Friday night Hershey plays at Chambersburg, and Middletown at Mechanicsburg in South Penn contests while Hanover is at Westminster and Carlisle at McDevitt in non-conference games.

Waynesboro At Gettysburg

Although the starting lineup will be essentially the same that opposed Hershey last week, Coach Ben Jones of the Gettysburg High Warriors may be forced to make two changes for Friday's game with Waynesboro due to minor injuries to two of his top ball carriers.

Bob Furney, fullback, sustained a nose injury last week while Tommy Crist, leg halfback, received a leg injury. Both have been kept out of contact work this week but may see at least part time action. If Furney is unable to play, Bob Dean, 175-pound sophomore, will take over after having been moved up from the junior varsity. He will share the duties with Harold Kint, 152, senior. Ted Fair, 165, or Bill Shoemaker, 160, is listed to replace Crist. Ed Simpson, 180, junior center, will assume the line-backing duties of Furney.

The Warriors will continue to mix their defensive patterns with their "jitter-bug" style of play.

Top SP Passer

Waynesboro is expected to fill the air with passes. In Ken Keller, 164-pound senior and letterman, they have the South Penn's leading passer. Don Eakle, 150, fullback, has been one of the Indians' leading ground-gainers, his specialty being on a pitchout.

The Franklin Countians are expected to be doubly dangerous inasmuch as they are seeking their initial conference victory after four losses. Waynesboro has a 2-5 overall record. The victories were over South Hagerstown 26-0, and Scotland 34-7. Losses were absorbed at the hands of Middletown 19-6, Hershey 27-0, Carlisle 44-6, Hanover 38-7, and Shippensburg 13-6.

William "Zip" Zehler is coaching Waynesboro for the first time.

West York At Biglerville

Time is running out for the Biglerville High School Canners who are still seeking their first football victory of the season and Friday's game with invading West York presents the best opportunity in the two remaining games. Littlestown plays at Biglerville November 7, in the final game of the campaign.

The West York Bulldogs have but one victory in six games, a 32-7 conquest of Kennard-Dale. They tied Lebanon Catholic 7-7 and dropped decisions to Susquehanna 20-0, Littlestown 14-7, York Catholic 27-6, and Dallas 31-0.

Potentially West York has a solid outfit with eight senior lettermen on the squad. However, the Bulldogs have failed to measure up to expectations despite several good but losing performances.

Loaded With Vets

The lettermen include the following: Ends, Bob Becker and Bill Cash; tackles, Reid Miller and Ron Keisler; guard, Mike Kettnerman; center, Charles Leathery; quarterback, Dave Smith, and halfback, Ray Ernst. Leathery and Smith are the co-captains.

Biglerville, with an 0-5-1 record, and the Bulldogs have met one common opponent and both teams lost. The Canners bowed to Dallastown 39-20 while West York lost to the same team last week 31-0.

Improvement was noted in the Canners' play last Saturday at Scotland despite a 7-6 setback at the hands of the Cadets.

From all angles the coming game shapes up as even affair.

GRID STARS TO GET BIG TEST ON SATURDAY

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Some of Saturday's more important football games could turn into a battle of "stars," answering the inevitable "who is best?" question.

Innately, the schedule-makers have brought together many of the top-flight college performers this weekend.

College of the Pacific makes its second trip over the Rockies in two weeks, meeting Boston College in Boston. It is also bringing Dick Bass, the nation's No. 1 rusher with 647 yards on 79 rushes in five games.

Ace Quarterback

The Eagles have their ace quarterback and passer Don Allard returning for the first time since he was injured in the Syracuse game, a month ago. He was BC's big offensive gun last year.

Two quarterbacks promise plenty of fireworks when Wake Forest moves to Clemson for their Atlantic Coast Conference battle. Wake Forest is counting on Norm Snead, 14th in the country in total offense with 596 yards in six games.

Clemson has Harvey White back in harness after being injured in the loss to South Carolina a week ago. White has been among the top five ACC offense leaders all year.

S. C. Vs. Maryland

Also in the ACC, Alex Hawkins, South Carolina's rumbling halfback, pits his prowess against Maryland's quarterback Bob Ruseyvan, the nation's 14th ranked passer.

Hawkins led the Gamecocks to their 26-6 upset of Clemson a week ago with 57 yards in 12 carries and one touchdown. Ruseyvan has racked up 387 yards with 41 completions and two touchdowns for the Terps.

The big game in the Big 10 also could turn into a great offensive duel with Ohio State's Bob White and quarterback Frank Kremlas facing Northwestern's signal caller Dick Thornton and halfback Ron Burton.

Other Battles

White, the OSU fullback, leads the Big 10 in rushing with 151 yards in 46 carries for a 3.3 average.

Nationally, he ranks sixth with 450 yards in 122 carries, and is among the leaders in scoring with 48 points on eight TDs.

Last Friday the Squires squeezed through to a 13-7 triumph over Lebanon Catholic but their performance did not come up to several of the past.

During the week Coach Carr has been working his squad hard for the game in anticipation of a close game.

Littlestown at Northern

Littlestown, newly crowned unbeaten champions of the Laurel Conference, are scheduled for action Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the Thunderbolts meet Northern at Dillsburg.

Coach Wib Gobrecht is guarding against a let-down for the non-conference game. Littlestown, losers only to Shippensburg in the opening game of the season, have now posted six consecutive victories including five Laurel games.

It is no secret the Bolts are looking ahead to their engagement at Biglerville Friday evening, November 7, but too much concentration on the future date may prove costly this week.

The Polar Bears have been coming along strong since early in the season and are hoping to pull a surprise.

ROBERTS WINS '58 COMEBACK TITLE IN NL

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—"I felt better and was throwing better."

That's how Robin Roberts summarized his 1958 pitching record of 17 victories and 14 losses that won him the Comeback Player of the Year title in the National League.

Roberts got 59 of the 98 votes by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Bob Friend of Pittsburgh got 21 votes and Bobby Thomson of Chicago 13.

The 32-year-old Philadelphia hurler referred to his dismal 10-22 record for 1957 and said it "definitely made me a candidate for the comeback" honor, didn't it?

Was Throwing Better

The strapping right-hander did not bring any excuses after that fiasco. "I just got clobbered. That is all," he said.

But Roberts, in Savannah to look after his seafood packing and restaurant business, had a ready reason for his improvement.

"I suppose I made a comeback this year because I felt better and was throwing better," he commented. "I wasn't throwing any different stuff — not too much anyhow — but I was throwing better."

1957 Mark Worst

"I can tell you one thing, I'm looking forward to next season and I personally hope to do better. I feel fine and I suppose this feeling comes from winning. It makes a lot of difference the way you feel when you're out there winning."

Roberts' 1957 mark was the worst in his major league career. He won 20 or more games for six straight years, 1948-55, before dropping to a 19-18 mark in 1956. Then in 1957 his earned run average soared to 4.07. But his 1958 performance trimmed this to 3.27.

PETTIT SCORES 37 FOR HAWKS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Pettit still is the same Bob Pettit of last season. For the St. Louis Hawks that is good news. For their rivals in the National Basketball Assn. it is bad.

Pettit tallied 37 points Wednesday night to run his total for three games to 91 as the Hawks defeated the Minneapolis Lakers 112-100 and took over first place in the Western Division. Last season Pettit was the league's third ranking scorer with a game average of 24.8 points.

The former Louisiana State All-American hit on 15 of his 23 field goals attempts and paced the Hawks' fourth-period attack as they turned the game into a rout. The score was all-square at 78 going into the final quarter. Then Pettit made 10 of his 37 points to put the game out of reach of the Lakers.

A basketball schedule for the 1959-60 season was drawn up at a meeting of the South Penn Scholastic Conference Wednesday evening at the Peace Light Inn.

Conflicts in football schedules were discussed, but little progress was made in ironing out several.

President Guile W. Lefever presided at the meeting which was attended by all schools, both of the old and new leagues.

NEW OFFENSE LEADERS TAKE OVER ON GRID

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three new individual offense leaders bobbed up in major college football this week all taking over with spectacular performances.

Sonny Randle of Virginia nabbed nine tosses last week and raised his season total to 32, the most any player has made in six games since 1952. This despite the fact Virginia's ace passer, Reece Whitley, has been sidelined with injuries the past two weeks.

Bill Austin, Rutgers' man of all work, scored three times against Lehigh last Saturday, bringing his total to 66 points. He now has scored more touchdowns

UNICEF TRICK TREAT STUNT IS ATTACKED

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two Roman Catholic priests today held firm in their decisions to prohibit parish children from joining a Halloween fund drive for a U.N. child relief program tabooed as Communist-affiliated by an American Legion report.

The priests declined to change their positions after the director of the organization's U.S. committee said, "We categorically deny the charge and its implication."

The priests, heads of churches in small communities in neighboring Waukesha County, refused to let the children collect in tonight's trick or treat drive for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

Read Legion Report

The priests are the Rev. Joseph Stier of St. Mary's Church in Pewaukee and the Rev. Casimir Kuszewski of St. Theresa's Church in Eagle.

They acted after reading a report which said that "16 or more members of the UNICEF organization are either convicted Reds or in some way affiliated with communism." The report was made by an American Legion antisubversive committee in Washington State.

Norman Acton, executive director of the U.S. Committee for UNICEF, said in New York that "We have seen the original false information on which this is based and we categorically deny the charge and its implications."

Party Held Tuesday

The annual Halloween party for the children of the Sunday School of Redeemer's United Church of Christ was held on Tuesday evening in the church social hall, with approximately 50 children present in costume. The following were chosen winners for the costume prizes: Harriet Mailand, the youngest; Danny Seibert, funniest; Linda Breighner, prettiest; Susan Seibert and Jay Evans, tie for the most original; ugliest, Renee Miller; oldest in costume, Jill Weikert.

The grand march was played by Mrs. Richard A. Little Jr. The judges were Mrs. Clayton L. Evans, Mrs. John A. Sentz and Mrs. Raymond Hahn.

A Halloween story was told to the group by the pastor, the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, who was masked for the occasion. Group games were played and refreshments were served.

The Senior High Youth Fellowship of Redeemer's Church will have a Halloween party for members and their guests on Saturday evening, 8 o'clock, at the home of James Kroh, near town. The committee on arrangements is composed of James Kroh, Bernard Weaver, Phyllis Eby and Sandy Hawk.

Foe Meets Foe At Factory Gate

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Republican Gov. Vernon Thomson stood outside a plant gate Wednesday and shook hands with all comers — including Wisconsin's Democratic senator, William Proxmire.

As Thomson waited in the early morning gloom for workers to arrive, a lone figure approached and the governor prepared to greet him in the best campaign style.

But as the figure drew nearer, a startled Thomson faced an equally startled Proxmire.

"Oh, hello, Vern," said the senator. "Well, you were here first, so I guess I better go somewhere else." Hands were shaken all around and Proxmire headed for another plant.

Penn State Researchers Seek Answers To Odd Questions

By BOB HOLTON

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—It's pretty doubtful that you were wondering on your travels into work today just what effect jet engine noise has on rats.

And you were probably just about as disinterested in the secret behind how a bat manages to find its way home.

In fact, you probably didn't even know a bat could find its way home, now did you?

Well, just so you have something to think about tomorrow on your way to work:

Some Research Topics

Jet engine noises, combined with other stress situations can cause pathological changes in rats.

And a bat can find its way home, that is an established fact. But nobody knows how the air-borne rodent does the trick.

Answers to these and a collection of other odd questions are being worked out in laboratory experiments at Pennsylvania State University.

It all comes under the heading of research designed to produce information which might be beneficial to human beings.

Noises Have Effects

Dr. Adam Anthony and Dr. Eugene Ackerman have found that noises and other stress situations when combined can cause adverse physical changes among rodents.

Dr. Elizabeth Smith has sent 400 bats from their home cave and found they always manage to return. She's trying to find out how they do it.

On the positive side, Dr. John F. Corso discovered that women have more sensitive and less variable hearing than men.

Can Hear With Skin

Another researcher, Dr. Alec J. Slivinske says he has proof that people can hear through their skin. Actually what it amounts to is coded messages can be received through a person's skin through vibratory receivers attached to their body.

Some of the answers yet to be found are:

How accurately can the weight of an entire skeleton be measured by determining the bone density of one little fragment?

What affects do high and low protein diets have on human beings? Students at the university are following prescribed diets as "guinea pigs" in the experiment.

Answers to these and a collection of other odd questions are being worked out in laboratory experiments at Pennsylvania State University.

It all comes under the heading of research designed to produce information which might be beneficial to human beings.

DR. ROCKWELL OF SHOW BIZ NOW PAINTER

By GORDON GLOVER
SOUTHPORT, Maine (AP) — On a high point of land overlooking the rich blue of Boothbay Harbor stands a rambling white dwelling known as "Slipshod Manor."

Nearby is a smaller building carrying the name: "Southport Institute of Art — Fine, Medium & Coarse."

As everyone around this resort area knows, George L. Rockwell is the master of both the abode and the institute. Rockwell is a sign painter, an ex-lobster fisherman, and the one-time keeper of an inn called "Tinker Tavern."

More than that, he is the inimitable "Doctor" Rockwell, one of the sharpest wits in show business back in the 1920s and '30s.

Writes Too

Vigorous at 70, Doc does very well painting signs ("While you wait — and wait, and wait") and writing occasional magazine and newspaper articles.

In the happy days of vaudeville, Doctor Rockwell's specialty was medical tom foolery. He was a master monologuist who brought down theater roofs everywhere by holding up a banana stock — stripped of bananas — and delivering a ridiculous lecture on its similarity to the human spine.

Then, as now, the doctor's philosophy was humorous and homely and it was just what the nation wanted in the giddy years of the 1920s. The Shuberts signed him for such revues as "Quack Quack Doctor," "Greenwich Village Follies," and "Broadway Nights." Then came a stint on radio, where Rockwell wrote most of his own stuff ("The writers—oh, they were horrible!") and appeared as a frequent guest with such established stars as Rudy Vallee and Fred Allen.

On TV Just Once

Rockwell's one and only television appearance was with Allen, one of his closest friends. In fact, Rockwell often collaborated with the late comedian and supplied him with material.

In the early 1940s, Rockwell retired to his beloved coast of Maine, returning to New York briefly and infrequently for radio shows. He fished for lobsters until he hurt his back, operated

"Tinker Tavern" until it closed up, and then took up sign painting ("You learn 26 letters and nine numerals and you're in business!").

Does he crave to return to the limelight? Well, not really. "I'm falling apart and enjoying it," Rockwell says.

McGonigle Files His Pearson Suit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania's Republican candidate for governor, Arthur T. McGonigle, is asking $300,000 from columnist Drew Pearson in a libel suit.

The complaint was filed in U.S. District Court Wednesday. It asks $150,000 compensatory damages and an equal amount in punitive damages.

Atty. Robert V. Smith of Washington and John S. Rhoda of Reading, Pa., filed the action. It is based on an Oct. 1 column by Pearson which discussed activities of McGonigle and his brother, Ray, in the pretzel business.

MISS FANSLER IS EXCEPTION TO TV RULES

NEW YORK (AP)—The majority of girls in TV Westerns are not exactly the type you'd want to introduce to your mother. When they aren't trying to reform after a dubious past they're usually making eyes at a dubious future.

Carole Mathews, a tall, beautiful blonde, hopes that an exception to his generalization is Wilma Fansler, the young widow who appears to have a crush on Marshal Matt Wayne in "The Californians" (Tuesdays, NBC-TV).

Miss Mathews knows Wilma better than anyone else because she plays the role of Wilma. "I want her to be a good-hearted girl, not a bad girl," says Miss Mathews.

It's An Honest One

Wilma, to be sure, is no prude. She runs a gambling house—though everybody goes to great pains to emphasize that it's an HONEST gambling house.

Furthermore, Wilma is a widow. And, if you've been watching the TV set very sharply, you'll have observed that comely young widows have become highly respectable creatures on nighttime teleplays recently.

Miss Mathews said that viewers now seem to have accepted the fact that Wilma is Matt's girl friend. No hanky-panky, you understand. Just good friends.

True, Wilma never has kissed Wayne, played by Richard Corgan.

Audience Important

And why not? "I really don't know why not," said Miss Mathews. "As a matter of fact, that's a very good question. Why can't I kiss my leading man? Why can't leading men in Westerns ever kiss a girl?"

Would Wilma like to kiss Matt? Miss Mathews, an adroit diplomat, said thoughtfully, "I don't think it matters much how Wilma feels about it. The important thing is what would be the audience reaction. I'd like to know if they objected to a very warm, tender relationship between Wilma and Matt."

"On the other hand, perhaps the audience prefers the sense of anticipation that they may someday kiss rather than the fact that they do."

A man whose normal weight is 150 pounds would weigh about 50 pounds if all the water in his system were dried up.

Pope John XXIII raises his hand to give his first blessing—"Urbi et Orbi" to the city of Rome and to the world as he appears on balcony of Basilica of St. Peter's following his election Tuesday. Holding the missal is Msgr. Carlo Capoferri of the Vatican ceremonial office.

3 AMERICAN SCIENTISTS GIVEN AWARD

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Three American scientists won the 1958 Nobel Prize in Medicine and Physiology today for solving some of the basic riddles of heredity.

Their discoveries were credited by a member of the prize-awarding body with opening new avenues in cancer research.

The winners are Dr. George Wells Beadle, 55, of the California Institute of Technology; E. L. Tatum, 49, of New York's Rockefeller Institute; and Joshua Lederberg, 33, of the University of Wisconsin.

The Royal Caroline Institute of Medicine said half the $41,420 prize would go jointly to Beadle and Tatum "for their discovery that genes act by regulating specific chemical processes."

The other half went to Leder-

berg "for his discoveries concerning genetic recombination and the organization of the genetic material of bacteria."

"Genetic recombination" is a term for sexual fertilization in the bacterial world. Lederberg found that from the geneticists' point of view, "this corresponds exactly to the normal sexual fertilization in higher organisms."

Describing the work of the prize winners, Prof. Torbjorn Casperson of the Caroline Institute said the research of Beadle and Tatum in the early 1940s "led to the discovery that the individual gene acts by directing individual steps in the course of chemical synthesis in the cell. All the substances in the cell are built up step by step in a long series of synthesizing processes."

Individual Genes

"The individual steps are governed by individual genes by their regulation of the production of specific enzymes for each separate step."

Casperon, himself a world authority on genetics, said this discovery "offered the first chance to understand the mode of action of the genes" and is one of the foundations of modern genetics.

Their research was based largely on a red bread mold called neurospora crassa, which Beadle described as "one of the most useful genetic guinea pigs."

Any strain of this mold can be multiplied a million times in a couple of days without genetic change.

Using swiftly multiplying bacteria as genetic guinea pigs is viewed as one of the great advances in genetics.

Littlestown

TO IMPROVE ALPHA FIRE HOUSE DOORS

An electric operator for the door of the Alpha Fire Co. house will be installed, the Littlestown borough council decided Tuesday night. The council accepted a proposal from I. H. Crouse & Sons, Inc., to install the operator for $317. The price does not include the wiring.

The action by council was prompted by a recent incident when the manually operated door was damaged by a piece of fire apparatus being caught in it.

The council, which met in regular session in the office of Borough Secretary Roger J. Keefer, also worked out an agreement with the owner of a property on W. Myrtle St. for construction of a curb on a radius, as desired by the council.

P. Bernard Weaver had been in the process of having a curb and sidewalk installed along his property when the work was stopped at the request of the borough. Weaver was informed at Tuesday's council meeting that the street had been surveyed to have a radius turn rather than an angle, as Weaver was planning the construction.

Curb Change

Weaver said that he already had excavated on the basis of the angle, which, it was conceded, is in accordance with a borough ordinance. However, councilmen said, the radius would "make a better appearance." Weaver said that he would agree to the radius if it would not involve him in extra expense and the council agreed that it would undertake the necessary excavation to effect the change.

Street Commissioner Joseph H.

Redding was authorized to order a load of cold patch material for resurfacing excavation areas on Queen St. and to have a supply on hand for winter patch work.

The secretary reported that construction of W. Myrtle Ave. from Patrick Ave. and Rita Marie Ave., including a short section of James Ave., cost $3,693.33. He also said that the sharp dips at the intersection of James and Myrtle St. are to be corrected.

Councilman Robert J. Stoner presented a request for a street light at Columbus Ave. and W. Myrtle St. and council approved a motion to have the light installed.

To Check Hazard

The Safety committee was instructed to study a traffic hazard at the intersection of Newark and N. Queen St. and to report recommendations for its elimination. It was suggested that the committee consider whether one-way traffic regulation might solve the problem.

Police Chief Calvin W. Mumford reported on his department's activities since the previous council meeting September 23. Parking violations included 56 overtime, 'wo in no parking zone, two within 25 feet of intersection and one parking against traffic. Parking violation fines were $70. Meter collections were $54.69.

Motor code violations reported were: Too fast for conditions, 3; flashing red light, 2; red light, 2, and driving under influence of alcohol, 1.

Criminal investigations numbered two; accidents, six; government, two, and outside agencies, four. There were nine funeral escorts and six warrants served. One automobile and two bicycles were reported stolen and recovered.

Building Permits

Building permits were issued to: Arthur J. Mummert Jr. to remove shade trees for Charles C. Miller, 69 W. King St. and 14 Cemetery St.; Clarence O. Bankert, 47 Prince St., trim shade trees; Mrs. Laura M.

Redding, 117 M St., remove and rebuild chimney; Harry C. Streig Jr., 535 W. King St., replace steps and pavement; Carrie A. Krumrine, 181 Cemetery St., paint and repair; Claude A. Snyder, 65 Crouse Park, resurface driveway; E. B. Gelman to paint dwelling for David Little, E. King St.; Charles A. Hofe, to repair apartment for Mrs. Leslie K. Crouse Corn-King and Queen Sts.; Theodore J. Leppo, 20 Park Ave., trim or remove shade trees, and Biggins Roofing & Siding Co., install siding for Sterling J. Wistockey, 519 Prince St.

Give Exonerations

Water permits were issued to James C. Myers, 49 Crouse Park; the Rev. David S. Kammerer, 153 Cemetery St.; Calvin H. Harman, 445 W. King St.; P. Emory Weaver, 323 N. Queen St., and Norman J. Hahn, 16 Park Ave.

LeRoy W. Bish, tax collector, made his final report of taxes collected on the 1957 duplicate with $759.30 collected. He also asked and received exoneration for $668.21 in taxes on the 1957 duplicate covered by removals, deaths, indigent, duplication and error.

Solicitor Edward B. Bulleit was instructed to advise the attorney for a property owner whose 1956 tax is unpaid that, unless payment is now made of the tax and penalty, a lien will be entered.

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Lorenzo, packing maximum 100 m. p. h. winds near the center, veered from the Philippines toward Okinawa today, leaving possibly seven dead and at least 1½ million dollars in damage to crops and property. Hardest hit in the Philippines was the Bicol region in southern Luzon.

TOKYO (AP) — Gen. Yang Yung said today his Red Chinese soldiers just withdrawn from North Korea are "ready to contribute all their strength to the liberation" of Formosa and the offshore islands. About 500,000 Chinese troops returned from North Korea to Red China this year.

Indians Trounce Barons By 14-5

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Springfield Indians have demonstrated very clearly that the Cleveland Barons no longer are the feared Barons of the 1957-58 American Hockey League season.

In the circuit's only game last night, the Indians thrashed the Barons 14-5 to tie a 10-year old club record and send last season's runner-up club down to its fifth straight defeat. The Barons have won only two of their nine games. They also tied one.

Ken Schinkel led the assault with four goals and two assists and tied Buffalo's Bill Sweeney for the league scoring lead with 16 points.

Rookie Dennis Olson came up with three goals, all in the third period. Harry Pidhorney tallied twice as the Pidhorney-Schinkel-Jim Anderson line accounted for half of Springfield's goals.

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany claimed today that 340,616 people have left West Germany and West Berlin over the last four years to resettle in the satellite nation.

The Interior Ministry published the figures to counter the publicity given the constant westward flow of East German refugees, which averages more than 4,000 weekly.

TUNIS (AP) — Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba today asked French Premier Charles de Gaulle to pave the way for Tunisian-Moroccan mediation of the Algerian rebellion by releasing the top Algerian rebel leader imprisoned in Paris.

The rebel leaders were captured two years ago.

NICOSIA, CYPRUS (AP) — Three Greek Cypriots convicted of firing on a group of Turkish Cypriots last August during the height of Greek-Turkish communal clashes were sentenced to death today.

NIXON SWINGS WEST ON HIS WAY TO ALASKA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Vice President Nixon returned to the Corn Belt today as he headed west on his final bid for election of a Republican Congress in next Tuesday's voting.

Nixon, en route to a weekend of campaigning in Alaska, stopped overnight in Chicago before traveling to Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Wichita, Kan., today.

His Friday schedule takes him to Billings, Mont., and Everett, Wash., before he heads for Alaska. Voters of the prospective 49th state will name two U.S. senators and a representative in a special election Nov. 25.

Chairmen Speak Out

Campaigning in California Wednesday night, Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler renewed his suggestion that Democrats who won't support a civil rights plank in 1960 get out of the party.

Butler told a news conference at West Covina that Democrats who couldn't go along with such a plank should either stay in the party and try to put over their own viewpoint—or support a Republican ticket or a third-party movement or stay home and not vote.

At Greenwich, Conn., GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn ripped anew what he called Democratic "radicals."

"Would you rather have government in the hands of the left-wing gang or see it in the hands of the Republican party?" he asked a GOP rally.

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO appeared to hit mostly at Republican campaigners in telling a nationwide radio audience he wanted to "puncture the big labor political scare balloon of 1960."

But he mentioned neither parties nor candidates by name in assailing what he called campaign that organized labor is trying to take the nation down the road to socialism. Speaking from Washington, Meany said:

"An Unforgivable Trick"

"The hidden purpose behind this cry of socialism, and such phrases as leading America 'down the left lane' is to plant in the minds of the American people the idea that labor is pro-Communist.

"This is an unforgivable and completely unjustified trick."

With the campaign going into its final days, President Eisenhower prepared to wind up his speechmaking with a nationwide radio-television talk in Baltimore Friday night.

PENNA. SCHOOL DIRECTORS IN SESSION TODAY

HARRISBURG (AP) — Some 1,500 state school directors today began smoothing out the blue print they will present to the 1959 Legislature outlining their feelings on how Pennsylvania should subsidize public education.

The delegates, who came here for the 62nd annual convention of the State School Directors Assn. which continues through Saturday, immediately broke into committees to consider various legislative proposals.

See Quick Agreement

Early indications pointed toward quick agreement on two matters of prime interest before the delegates:

1. Petition the general Assembly soon after it returns to Harrisburg to increase state subsidies for public schools.

2. Petition the general Assembly to raise the 925 million dollar limit on state financed school construction.

Face Impossible Shortages

P. O. Van Ness, association executive director, put it this way:

"The Legislature is going to have to take action to increase these two spendings or it will find an impossible shortage of school buildings and an even greater shortage of school teachers."

Van Ness joined with other delegates in prebusiness session discussions which all centered around mutual agreement that increased subsidies for public schools are needed.

Later today the association's legislative council will meet in formal session to hammer out a completed version of the group's tentative legislative program.

Represent 2,500

The Commonwealth public education system accounts for more than half of the money put into the general fund each year. This would amount to about 800 million dollars during the last two years.

"We don't expect much bickering on the legislative program and we hope to have the council adopt its finished form quickly," Van Ness said.

The delegates represent some 2,500 school directors throughout the Commonwealth.

Secretaries Meeting

At the same time, some 400 delegates to the State Assn. of School Board Secretaries will meet separately in Harrisburg for one day, Friday and Saturday this group.

that the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will vote Tuesday at Gettysburg, Pa., and then return to Washington to receive the election returns.

Nixon voted Wednesday before flying to Chicago. Aides said he voted the straight Republican ticket on his California absentee ballot. But they declined to say how he voted on a right-to-work referendum which has divided major California GOP candidates.

Mrs. Nixon and the two Nixon daughters—Patricia, 12, and Julie, 10—fly to Seattle Friday to join the vice president for his flight to Juneau, Alaska, Saturday. It will be the first campaign trip for the Nixon girls.

The Nixons plan to fly to Fairbanks for a Monday appearance before returning to Washington.

Zoe Atkins, Poet, Playwright, Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Zoe Atkins, a playwright and poet who won the Pulitzer Prize for Drama in 1935, died Wednesday night after a three-week illness. She was 72.

Among Miss Atkins' successful plays were "The Greeks Had a Word for It," "The Furies" and "Mrs. January and Mr. Ex."

Her poems included "The Hills Grow Smaller." She also wrote novels, one of which was "For-ever Young."

Miss Atkins won the Pulitzer Prize for her dramatization of "The Old Maid," a story by Edith Wharton.

Always test jars with rubber. You can do this by half filling the jars with water, sealing and turning upside down. Watch for leakage.

will join with the school directors in attending meetings and business sessions.

"State subsidies to school districts are falling way short of the state's fair share of the education bill," Van Ness said.

One proposal for consideration for presentation to the Legislature would increase the maximum from $25 million dollars to as high as $1,425,000,000 for state financed school construction.

GIVE WARNING ON COAL MINES

HARRISBURG (AP) — A special warning went out to state mine inspectors today on the basis of recent mine disasters in Nova Scotia and West Virginia in the past week.

Mines Secretary Joseph Kennedy wrote the inspectors that dangers from coal dust are at a peak right now because of sudden and rapid changes of temperature and humidity.

"I request that you bring this to the attention of mine management and mine workers and remind them that you expect their cooperation and support in seeing that all coal dust is promptly and properly taken care of, and that their program of rock dusting is accelerated to provide for the seasonal changes," he said.

Coal dust under certain conditions is explosive. Rock dusting is a process used to cut down the danger of an explosion.

Kennedy said mine inspectors should insist that air shafts be inspected daily with the cold weather ahead.

"In the records of coal mine disasters," he said, "some have been attributed to the freezing of air shafts thereby interrupting the mine ventilation."

Gideon Baugher "Lookout" House, Near Aspers, Now More Than 100 Years Old

Because he wanted to be able to "look around the country," Henry G. Baugher had a "lookout" built on top of his house near Aspers. The house, occupied today by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac N. Ripley, is a landmark in the area.

His house is not much used. Mrs. Ripley said that the maple and walnut trees have grown so high that they obstruct much of the view that was once available. But one can still get a good look at the country north and south of the house.

Out Of Bounds

Access to the lookout is by a stairway from the attic and through a seldom-opened trapdoor. Youngsters who visit at the Ripley residence find the lookout intriguing, but it has been out of bounds for some years.

For Joyce Ripley, 14-year-old granddaughter of Henry Baugher, the visit to the lookout, when it was opened for reporter for the Gettysburg Times, was a treat.

Joyce, a ninth grade student at Biglerville High School, said that her recent visit to the roof-top was "the first one I can remember." Although she added, "I may have been up there when I was quite small."

LATE MOVE

MORRISBURG, Ont. (AP) — At 91, Miss I. K. Farlinger is resigned to moving her home. The three-story frame house in which she was born, built by her grandfather in 1884, is being torn down as part of St. Lawrence Seaway work. She will live in a new bungalow.

SLEEPY THIEF

HONOLULU (AP) — The burglar who broke into a Honolulu doctor's office may be in for a long sleep.

Dr. Thomas H. Maeda told police the thief took 1,000 sleeping pills.

New Zealand sent 117,000 men overseas into World War II. Most were volunteers. Only a few were ordered to service.

NEW PLAY

MONTREAL (AP) — Andre Montreal poet and playwright, is to direct his play "Les Embardées" in a production for the Theatre Guild in New York.

"Les Embardées" ("The Dilettantes") was produced here in February, but, says Boucher, the script was turned into "a soap opera because everyone was afraid of the original script in which unconventional sexual relationships were implied."

Two weeks after presentation of the watered-down version the Theatre Guild requested the original French script.

The young playwright says he is going to live in New York for a while to "make contacts and get the feel of it" before venturing the production.

Bernard is a Teutonic name meaning "bold as a bear."

HAND-WOVEN CLOTHES ARE DISTINCTIVE

By CALVIN JOHNSON

Bellingham Herald Reporter

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP) —

Along one of Copenhagen's tourist-filled streets recently a young American housewife startled her husband by suddenly darting from his side to greet another woman like a long lost friend.

"I never saw her before," the housewife later explained. "I thought she might know Ethel Barber. She was wearing a Barber skirt."

The American tourist was referring to 54-year-old Mrs. James Barber, a former grade school teacher, who operates a hand weaving shop near Bellingham. The shop is in a long concrete-block structure behind her small frame home. Both buildings stand on land purchased 30 years ago from the Lummi Indians.

Mrs. Barber is a short woman. She looks younger than her years. Her gray hair is offset by the spring in her step and the snap in her voice.

Handmade

Her clothes are literally handmade, but would do justice to a Fifth Avenue shop. She wears heavy-rimmed glasses, respects her husband's business judgment, smokes unfiltered cigarettes and has a painter's feeling for color, balance and design.

"Things like that Copenhagen incident have happened in other parts of the world," she told a visitor during a tour of her loom room. "One woman told me my designs are as distinctive as a barber pole."

"But I think it's the color and his envelope:

"Bought car in Fayetteville, Ark., live in Oklahoma, leaving for Arizona. Too bad, so sad, one motorist sent this note in dad."

Appointed

an order from a store in Montana."

The material being "built" contained about six different colored threads. The overall effect might be called one of colored salt and pepper.

"There is no distinctive pattern here," said Mrs. Barber, "yet there is a definite design and weaving formula that combine to create visual balance and color harmony. This is a special order. Most of our cloth has a recognizable pattern."

The weaver never interrupted her rhythmic movements. "Delores has been with me along time," said Mrs. Barber. "Over there is Verla Kinley," she pointed out.

Experimenter

"Delores and Verla now run the weaving shop. I no longer weave . . . just spend my time experimenting with new designs and colors."

"These Lummi girls are wonderful workers. They have great patience and skillful hands. We usually keep nine to 12 of them employed, although we have had as many as 17 during the rush season June to Christmas."

Mrs. Barber hired her first weaver in 1946 when she chose to convert a ten-year-old hobby into a profession.

"So many people offered to buy things from me, I finally decided to try making a living at it," she explained. "I started with one loom and half a garage."

Now she has about ten times as much working space.

LOST TITLE

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Casper no longer can claim the title of bachelor capital of the United States. Two years ago, Casper let it be known it had more single men per single woman than any other city in the nation. Census officials say the 1957 male population is 17,612 compared with 17,847 females.

Congress passed the bill repealing laws to exclude Chinese from the United States in 1944.

TITLE CHANGE

NEW YORK (AP) — The season's oddest title switch has transformed a TV script "Dominique" into a Broadway prospect named "Ariadne and the Concrete Duck."

The comedy, by Ernest Kinoy, concerns a young couple in one of the huge suburban communities built since World War II.

It was shown on "Studio One" in 1955 with Marisa Pavan and Ralph Meeker in the key roles.

FINE THING

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Little Rock police leave a red envelope on cars tagged for overtime parking so the motorist can insert a $1 fine and mail it in.

his envelope:

"Bought car in Fayetteville, Ark., live in Oklahoma, leaving for Arizona. Too bad, so sad, one motorist sent this note in dad."

Built In Color

"This is Delores Senior," said Mrs. Barber. "She's completing balance rather than design that makes Barber material so easily recognizable. Of course the designs are important too. Here's what I mean." Mrs. Barber paused at one of the 12 looms operated by a Lummi Indian woman. "Watch for a few moments."

The woman's hand were a blur as she slid a long bobbin through parallel layers of taut cotton thread. Her feet moved from side to side, depressing what looked like organ treadles that raised and lowered various strands after each passage of the bobbin.

Now she has about ten times as much working space.

LAVENDER FLU

Your grandfather probably knew this cure. Flowers of lavender quilted in a hat were supposed to ward off "stuffed-up" noses and head colds. Pleasant treatment—but certainly not a sure cure. Today, thanks to medical science, we have numerous effective vaccines . . . against flu, whooping cough and other respiratory diseases . . . to immunize and protect us from the discomforts of infections. So, why suffer needlessly. Ask your physician about them. Let him prescribe the medication that is most effective for your needs. Then come to us for prescription service.

was brought up to realize that politics isn't a dirty word.

Opportunity For Women

"There's a huge pool of potential political candidates that's hardly been tapped," she said.

"I'm talking about women in their 30s and 40s who are well educated and aren't faced with the necessity of earning a living, the way their husbands are."

"They wouldn't be dependent on their political office. If pressure was put on them to cast a vote they knew was against the public interest they could stand up to the pressure and vote their convictions, even if it meant getting defeated in the next election."

Although this is her first try at public office Mrs. Brown has been getting deeper into politics each year since Adlai Stevenson's 1952 presidential campaign.

"As I listened to his speeches I finally said, 'I've got to do something about this,' and I went down to the local headquarters. I soon found they were able to occupy all my waking hours."

Her zeal at ringing doorbells, licking envelopes and other unskilled political labors did not go unnoticed and two years later she was put on the Democratic State Central Committee. In 1956 she was named head of the Southern California Women for the national convention. This year she was given the party's official endorsement as a candidate for Congress.

Eyeglasses were not invented until around the end of the 18th Century.

POLITICS IS NATURAL FOR RUDD BROWN

By JOHN BECKLER

LA CANADA, Calif. (AP) — Rudd Brown is elected to Congress from Southern California this fall it will be a notable event for at least two reasons.

For one, a political heritage stretching back three generations will be fulfilled. For another, the standard of congressional beauty will be immeasurably increased.

Red Author Accepts Nobel Prize Then Changes Mind

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Soviet Author Boris Pasternak has refused to accept the Nobel Prize for Literature. He referred to "the society I live in."

Pasternak sent a cable to Dr. Anders Oesterling, permanent secretary of the Royal Swedish Academy, which awards the literary Nobel prizes.

"Because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in, I ought to say no thanks to the undeserved prize awarded me," Pasternak said. "Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will."

Oesterling received a cable from Pasternak Saturday expressing his gratitude at the Nobel award.

That cable read: "Immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed."

Called Anti-Soviet

Wednesday's cable indicated that in the meantime something had happened to Pasternak to change his mind. The author of the novel "Doctor Zhivago," which is critical of communism, has been under rigorous attack in the Soviet press.

Pasternak was named for the award last week. The Soviet press asserted the selection was an anti-Soviet political maneuver.

Pravda, the official Communist party paper, heaped abuse on Pasternak and "Doctor Zhivago." It said he should reject the $41,420 cash prize if there were "spark of Soviet dignity left in him."

Get Other Awards

The Nobel Prize Committee presented the Russians with a dilemma. It awarded the Prize in Physics Tuesday to three top-ranking Soviet scientists — P. A. Cherenkov, I. M. Frank and Igor E. Tamm. The question was: would the Soviets let the scientists accept the physics award and at the same time keep Pasternak home?

The answer appeared in the Soviet press in Moscow Wednesday. The Russians were setting up a double standard on the Nobel prizes.

It said the physics award was fitting but at the same time it said it proved that the award for literature was dictated by "reactionary political aims."

"Doctor Zhivago" has never been published in the Soviet Union, but it is being widely read abroad.

Steel Supply Down; Will Rebuild Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — A 15-month liquidation in steel inventories is now at an end and steel consumers are starting to build up stocks, Roger Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., said Tuesday.

Blough made his comments at his regular quarterly news conference. He said steel inventories dropped one million ingot tons a month for 15 months and are now at the lowest point since 1950.

The company reported net income of $74,922,924 or $1.27 a share for the third quarter compared with $97,555,683 or $1.70 a share in the third quarter last year. Net income for the first nine months was $210,573,654 or $.56 a share against $328,976,991 or $.57 a share last year.

Having Trouble With New Office

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Associates say Pope John XXIII is having a little trouble getting adjusted to his new office.

Cardinals and other prelates knelt Wednesday to kiss the Pope's ring.

"Pardon me if I appear to be embarrassed," "I must get used to this new state of things. Tuesday I was a cardinal. Today I am pope. Pardon me."

The Pope used the first person "I." In referring to themselves, pontiffs normally use the more formal "We".

Two Convicted In Auto Fraud Ring

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Two men accused of taking part in a $35,000 automobile fraud ring, were found guilty Tuesday in Montgomery County Court.

Alfonso L. O. Gramling, 52, East Norriton Township, and David J. Kase, 28, Norristown, both were found guilty of conspiracy to cheat and defraud, and of cheating by fraudulent pretenses.

A third suspect who had pleaded innocent, Leonard J. Durante, 28, Jeffersonville, was discharged by Judge William F. Dannehower.

XMAS CLUBS TO DISTRIBUTE $1.3 BILLIONS

The nation's business will receive an added boost in November when some 7,900 financial institutions distribute $1,365,000,000 to about 13,000,000 Christmas Club members throughout the country.

"This hike in savings, in spite of depression or inflation threats, reflects the trend of the people's savings habits" said Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club Corporation. "People have learned the value of accumulating dollars that can lead to individual financial security. This is the seventh year that Christmas Club disbursements have exceeded a billion dollars," said Mr. Dorset.

The 1958 pay off is about 3% larger than in 1957. The average check this year amounts to $105.00 for each member.

Million Dollar Clubs

Of the 7,900 financial institutions, 189 had clubs in excess of $1,000,000 each. As in past years, New York leads with 2,641,843 members and $281,861,000, followed by Pennsylvania with 1,676,301 members and $184,176,000 and then New Jersey with 1,133,704 members and $144,836,020.

The rapid growth of the Christmas Club on the Pacific Coast has put California in fourth place with 968,584 members and $131,029,000.

Surveys made by Christmas Club Corporation indicate that the $1,365,000,000 will be used in many ways, all of which will give a lift to the nation's economy. Here is the forecast of how it will be used:

Christmas purchases	$420,966,000

Boy Admits Shooting Woman When She Didn't Drop Purse

By WILLIAM P. JOHNSTON

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — A 10-year-old boy verbally admitted to police today he shot a 32-year-old housewife when she refused to drop her purse.

Bill Maragos, chief investigator for the Arapahoe County sheriff's office, identified the boy as Kerry Dale Casey, son of Charles Wade Casey. Maragos said the boy admitted the shooting after he was brought to the county jail.

Mrs. Shirley Orlofsky was shot in front of her home in this Denver suburb Tuesday evening. She was in fair condition with a small-caliber bullet wound in the left shoulder.

No Charges Filed

Maragos said the boy, roused out of a sound sleep, first denied the shooting but later orally admitted it after a 22-caliber revolver, believed used by the boy, and several other guns were found in the basement of the Casey home.

Maragos quoted the boy as saying "I didn't mean to hurt her." He said he was "doing it like they do on the TV."

No charges were filed.

Mrs. Orlofsky said the boy approached her from across the street when she left a bus. "Drop your purse or I'll shoot you," he ordered.

"I'm not kidding. I just shot a guy and dropped him."

"I laughed at him at first," Mrs. Orlofsky said.

NEGRO VOTE APPEAL DENIED BY U. S. JUDGE

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge has upheld the controversial legislative act which all but eliminated Negro voting in Tuskegee, Ala.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., threw out a complaint filed by a group of Tuskegee Negroes challenging the constitutionality of the 1957 law which re-arranged city boundaries of Tuskegee.

The legislative act virtually halted Negro voting in Tuskegee by excluding all predominantly Negro residential areas from the city limits.

Ten Are Registered

As a result, only 10 registered Negro voters were left inside the city in contrast to the 420 who voted there before the act was passed. The 600 white voters in the city were left undisturbed.

The Negroes who challenged the law claimed it deprived them of their rights guaranteed by the federal constitution.

Johnson said that regardless of the motive of the Legislature in enacting the law, "this court has no authority to declare such act invalid after measuring it by any yardstick made known by the Constitution of the United States."

"This court has no control over no supervision over, and no power to change any boundaries of municipal corporations fixed by a duly convened and elected legislative body. . . ."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Ike In Final Talk On Friday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, back from a three-state campaign tour, will close his drive for election of a Republican Congress with a nationwide television-radio address from Baltimore Friday night.

The President returned to the capital by plane on Wednesday after a day and half of tub-thumping for votes in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York.

The Baltimore address will climax what generally is regarded as the hardest hitting campaign of Eisenhower's political career.

However, he pitched his politicking on a less harsh note in New York Tuesday. He spoke at two rallies of party workers and urged election of Nelson A. Rockefeller as governor and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating to the U.S. Senate.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — About 9,000 letters soliciting funds for the Little Rock Private School Corp. have been sent from Gov. Orval E. Faubus' office. One of his aides said today the response is "very good."

Here Are Your Republican Candidates For Important Offices

HUGH SCOTT

for U. S. Senate

Why is Hugh Scott one of Pennsylvania's most highly regarded citizens?

Republicans and Democrats alike have joined in sending him to Congress for 8 terms from a Democratic District! Why? — because he is an honest, friendly, energetic man who candidly says what he thinks, works hard for everybody.

Scott's 16 useful years in Washington have given Pennsylvania a well-informed lawmaker. An expert in international law, Scott as a U. S. delegate saved U. S. taxpayers $3 million yearly by forcing an increase in payments from other nations to international organizations.

Recently, Scott prevented the legislative imposition on family budgets of a "bread tax" of 1 cent a loaf, a milk tax of 1 cent a quart.

Scott keeps in constant touch with the "folks back home" — giving their problems his personal attention.

Scott served the Navy in two wars, is married, has one daughter and one granddaughter. He's a member of the Episcopal Church. He's a lawyer, Phil Beta Kappa, holds four University degrees, speaks five languages.

Hugh's for you!

ARTHUR T. MCGONIGLE

for Governor

Folks like young aggressive Art McGonigle. Born in Kane, Pa., he was graduated from Kane High School and Temple University. A son of a railroader, he was left fatherless at 13. He went to work then at 11 cents an hour.

Now, only 51, he heads a thriving pretzel business providing jobs for over 500 workers. He is typical of the young man who came up the hard way and made good right here in Pennsylvania.

Today, he is spearheading the Republican crusade against big-city bossism and deceit in government. He has always been active in youth activities and community projects.

He is a Trustee of Temple University and member of the Board of St. Joseph's Hospital. For the last 23 years he and his family have lived in Berks County.

McGonigle is a 32nd degree Mason and member of Rajah Shrine. He married Cordelia Edris of Lebanon County in 1929 and they have three children and three grandchildren.

ANDREW J. GLEASON

for Secretary of Internal Affairs

Andrew J. Gleason is vigorous, red-headed and self-reliant. A successful attorney, outspoken "Andy" thinks and talks in a manner that strikes home with voters of all backgrounds. He has earned the respect of union workers through his many representations of unions as an attorney.

A graduated engineer before entering law school, he has extensive executive background—being chairman of the Board of one of Central Pennsylvania's largest building construction companies; and also of an engineering and design company.

Gleason (plus 4 brothers and 3 brothers-in-law) served in WW II. He has continued his interest in veterans affairs—being particularly remembered as State Parliamentarian of the American Legion in 1946-47.

He has had a continual active interest in Republican affairs, serving on the State Executive Committee, and several campaign committees.

A resident of Johnstown, Andy is married and has two sons and one daughter—all now in college. He is a member of the Mother of Sorrows Catholic Church in Johnstown.

JOHN M. WALKER

for Lieutenant Governor

John M. Walker of Oakmont, Allegheny County, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, has a long and outstanding record of public service—a Borough Solicitor, a School Board Solicitor, a member of Borough Council, special counsel to Gifford Pinchot and Deputy Attorney General of the Commonwealth. He was elected to the State Senate in 1938 and served 16 consecutive years in that body. Four of those years he was the Republican Floor Leader. For the past seven years, he has been the Republican County Commissioner of Allegheny County.

His knowledge of state government, his ability to handle legislative details, and his campaign against the present evils of the State Pardon Board make him an ideal candidate.

An Infantry veteran from the First World War and an active member of his Presbyterian Church, he is an ideal running mate for our gubernatorial candidate.

ROBERT E. WOODSIDE

for Supreme Court

Judge Robert E. Woodside has had an interest in government since he served as a Senate page boy in the 1921-23 sessions. He worked his way through law school as a reporter in Harrisburg.

Woodside began law practice in Harrisburg 30 years ago, and four years later was elected to his first term in the State House of Representatives where he served for 10 years until moving up to the Dauphin County Common Pleas Court.

Woodside stepped down from the bench to be State Attorney General from 1951 to 1953, and then was named to the State Superior Court. He won a full 10-year term in 1954 with the unqualified endorsement of both Republicans and Democrats.

A dedicated civic worker in his community of Millersburg, Judge Woodside last year was chairman of the Tri-County Mental Health Week Committee sponsored by the Mental Health Association. He is a Shriner and 33rd Degree Mason.

He is head of the Commission established by the Legislature to study revision of the Commonwealth's Constitution.

S. WALTER STAUFFER

for Congress

S. Walter Stauffer, 134 Springetsbury Ave., York, Pa. Age 70; married, one child; member of Methodist Church; education, Conway Hill Prep. School, Dickinson College, B.A., one year in Dickinson Law School; manufacturer; Trustee Dickinson College; Director First National Bank, York; served four years in U. S. Congress; member of Masons, Eagles and Moose Lodges.

Action for Better Government

• These devoted family men have worked hard to get ahead and provide for their families. These candidates, and their families, belong to the generation which has a big stake in the future of Pennsylvania.

• We all want decent, secure jobs with good pay. We want our neighbors employed, too. And, most of us are familiar with the needs and ambitions of our active younger citizens.

• We all have a great deal in common—particularly when it comes to the kind of government we want. GOOD government means progressive action in our community and State. Today's weak boss-ridden government entrenched at the State Capitol handicaps us all.

• These seven dedicated Republican candidates will work with you for the good government you deserve.

• Be a GOP partner for better government!

FRANCIS WORLEY

for General Assembly

Francis Worley, R. 1, York Springs, Pa. Age 45; married, two sons; member of the Society of Friends (Quakers); education, George School 1934, Penn State University, A.B., 1938; Dickinson School of Law, LL.B., 1941; George Washington University Law School, LL.M., 1952; attended University of Pennsylvania Graduate School part time 1956-58; member of Bars of U. DOLLARS BEST AID AGAINST DELINQUENCY

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "A lot of people are blaming parents for juvenile delinquency, and a lot of parents are blaming neighborhoods," says psychiatrist Marjorie Rittwagen. "But childhood is difficult and children differ. Delinquent children are the result of many different things: their genetic inheritance, their parents' influence, their neighborhood, their schools, their church — and their times."

And the cure, she says, lies in dollars and cents.

In the last five years Dr. Rittwagen has talked to thousands of children whose crimes have ranged from murder to joy-riding in a "borrowed" car. And she has talked to their parents.

Staff psychiatrist in the Children's Division of New York City's has written a book about some of them, calling it "Sins of Their Fathers."

Could Help 85 Per Cent

"By conservative estimate, we could help better than 85 per cent of these kids," she says. "But we don't. We do not have the facilities."

Two things are clear about juvenile delinquency, she says. "A child in trouble is a child who needs help, and a child in trouble comes from an unhappy family."

"You find the most neglected and the most troubled children among the very rich and the very poor," she says. "The ones in between are the ones likely to get more love and more help from their families."

Parents are the biggest problem.

Shun Help

"A great many parents do not want, do not guide, do not supervise, their children," says the psychiatrist.

Most of these parents are poor parents because they know no better or can not do better. Many of them were themselves neglected or abused as children. And ten percent of the children reaching New York's courts have one or both parents who are so ill mentally they could be committed to institutions. About 60 per cent of delinquent children come from broken homes.

City life is responsible for some trouble. Dr. Rittwagen says that about half the parents of delinquent children come to New York or other big cities from small towns or rural areas.

Pressure Of City

"If they had remained where life was simple, many of these people could have gone through their lives without their mental states becoming worse. It is the pressures of the city."

Neighborhoods help mold delinquents: "Our worst problem

TEACH TYPING IN 4TH GRADE IN N. DAKOTA

By FRITZ WITTI

GRAND FORKS, N. D. (AP) — Getting children to practice the piano when school is out can be a tough job.

But an educator at the University of North Dakota had no trouble finding youngsters to "play" the typewriter this summer in an experiment in learning.

Dr. John L. Rowe, chairman of the business education department, organized the kiddie typing class to test his suspicion that handwriting is often a block to education in a young child.

Unnecessary Barrier

"The average fourth grader can write by hand about 12 words a minute," he explains. "By the end of our experiment, we expect to have the youngsters typing upward of 25 to 30 words a minute."

The progress in learning ability and thought expression of the typing students will be tested against a group of non-typing children at the end of the eight-week course.

Rowe maintains that the entire learning process can be aided if a child learns to type early and is able to transcribe his thoughts without mechanical difficulty. "It is not generally realized that handwriting is a difficult mechanical task," he points out.

The 28 children taking the typing course were chosen from among hundreds who applied. The group represents a typical cross-section of 8 to 10-year-olds.

Rowe, a pianist, noted that children of 6 are able to learn to play the piano. Since roughly the same mechanical and mental abilities are needed for typing, he sees no reason why they cannot also learn that skill.

Electric Portable

The idea for experiment has been in Rowe's mind for some time, but was delayed until a portable electric typewriter became available. A portable was necessary because it is suited to the child's smaller hand, and electric, because less muscular effort is needed.

The manufacturer of the machine made the experiment possible by providing the machines used in the course and a grant to support it.

Rowe conducted the first course in electric typewriting at teachers college, Columbia University, and has authored and co-authored some 12 typewriting textbooks, widely used in secondary schools and colleges.

HITCHHIKE CHAMP TAKES SPACE HIKE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Devon Smith, who calls himself the world's champion hitchhiker, is thumbing his way back to Los Angeles and a job on an auto assembly line after a summer taking, as he says, "the first interplanetary trip on earth."

Smith, 34, hitchhiked 12,000 miles around the country visiting towns with cosmic cognomina ranging from California to New York, from Florida to Minnesota. His itinerary carried him over the following stellar trail:

Mercury, Tex.; Star, Tex.; Eros, La.; Star, Miss.; Sun, La.; Jupiter, Fla.; Star, N. C.; Pluto, W. Va.; Moon, Va.; Neptune, N. J.; Ceres, N. Y.; Apollo, Pa.; Mars, Pa.; Vesta, Neb. and Va.; Venus, Tex., Fla. and Pa.

"Maybe some other trip," he said, hopefully, picking up his possessions and starting on the long road back to L. A.

so many people had seen him on preliminary appearances on a couple of network television appearances.

Hitchhike Record

Before he started on his interplanetary route, Smith had racked up a total of 158,000 hitchhikes miles thumbing his way around Europe and North America. Next year — or maybe even this fall — he'd like to try South America.

"I like to travel," said the blond, slightly built young man, "and hitchhiking is the cheapest way to do it. You meet such interesting people. And you learn a lot about the country."

His only regret was that on the most recent trip, he had to skip a few star-named communities — Star, Okla., Ore. and Ala.; Sun, W. Va.; Moon, N. D. and Ky.; Neptune, Tenn., and Ohio; Ceres, Calif., and Va.; Vesta, Neb. and Va., and Venus, Tex., Fla. and Pa.

"I like to travel," he said, hopefully, picking up his possessions and starting on the long road back to L. A.

BLIND JUROR

PORSCHEMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Jack Benner, 42, blinded by shrapnel on a French battlefield on Independence Day, 1944, was picked to serve on the September term of the Scioto County grand jury.

Although he could have been excused because of his disability, Benner said, "Some people think blind people can't do anything. I wanted to show them we can when we have a chance."

Both Portland, Ore., and Little Rock, Ark., are shown as the "City of Roses."

NEW ENGLAND TRUCKER BOSS IS WOMAN

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) —

Truck drivers for one of the largest transportation companies in New England take orders from a lady.

The men who man the rigs of Hartford Transportation Co., do so at the direction of petite, feminine president, Mrs. Rose O'Neill.

The arrangement apparently is a profitable one.

Mrs. O'Neill's present company was organized in 1940 with five trucks. It now has 225 tractor-trailer units, terminals in six states and employs 250 people.

Mrs. O'Neill's trucking career began when she was widowed at the age of 23.

Ability Recognized

She has managed to carve out a career in what is usually in all-male domain without sacrificing femininity. She quickly became accustomed to surprised looks and occasional resentment among the men in the industry.

But the men must have recognized her ability. In 1950, Mrs. O'Neill was elected head of the Accounting Council of the American Trucking Assn. in Connecticut. At that time she was the only woman on the council.

Mrs. O'Neill is a hard-working businesswoman who is dedicated to organization. On the job 10 hours a day, she is also available via a bedside telephone for night time emergencies.

Three days a week are spent houses. The remaining two days are devoted to making decisions in every phase of the business — from labor problems to maintenance questions.

Homemaker Too

At home, Mrs. O'Neill assumes the role of homemaker with relish. She believes in system in a house as well as an office. A good example is her linen closet; it is arranged alphabetically.

Her two sons and a daughter are away at school. The boys plan to take over the business when they complete their education.

Her advice to her sons is a little surprising. "Your job when you get married," she tells them, "is to keep the icebox full and to keep the woman at home."

She believes firmly that a woman's place is in the home. She is a businesswoman only because of necessity, she says.

But, Mrs. O'Neill adds quickly, "I love my job, I love coming to work, and I love the people I work with."

TRAVELERS' AID

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — An out-of-state visitor asked several persons for directions to the capitol.

She was sent to a theater, a newspaper and a restaurant, all of which had the word capitol in their names. She finally located, unaided, the building known locally as the Statehouse since 1694.

HAWK TRAP

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — A television antenna atop the T. A. Filips home picked up more than program signals. It caught a live hawk.

The Filips awoke to find the bird, with a wing spread of more than four feet, entangled in the antenna crossbars. A Lincoln Humane Society employee finally freed the struggling hawk with a specially constructed pole.

RABBITS IN

CHEROKEE, Okla. — Rabbits visiting the backyard of Barbara Robbins' farm quickly become rabbit stew, thanks to a dog and stove pipe.

The pipe leads to the Robbins cellar. An ell-shaped arm is attached to the top at ground level.

The Robbins dog herds the visiting Breer Rabbit into the ell. Mrs. Robbins then goes to the cellar and picks up her rabbit.

So far, four have been caught. But one of the bunnies got fouled up in the electric wires, short-circuiting all the house lights.

EXPERT MISTAKE

MILWAUKEE (AP) — An ex-visited woman called the Wisconsin Humane Society.

"Send somebody quick," she said. "There's a baby moose on our front lawn."

The man asked her how she knew it was a moose.

"My husband said so," she replied. "He ought to know. He's been hunting for 20 years."

The humane society man went out on the call. He found a wood-chuck.

Paper Missing Three Years Found Through Hypnotist

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sometimes it even takes hypnotism to run big business.

Executives of the Kroger Co., a large Midwest grocery chain, found this out recently when they tried to complete the purchase of a Dallas, Tex., chain.

A problem cropped up—a stock certificate worth roughly $100,000 was missing.

The paper was essential for Kroger's purchase of the Texas chain.

Jacob Davis, Kroger vice president, told how a hypnotist helped track down the missing paper and save an executive $5,000, to boot:

Jack Evans, vice president of Wyatt Food Stores of Dallas, found he had misplaced the stock certificate, probably three years ago.

Evans, having no luck with his own memory met hypnotist Franz Polgar near Dallas, and asked him to help.

In a trance, Evans said the certificate was wrapped around his wrist in a safety deposit box.

A quick check showed this was true.

The sale was completed, and Evans was saved from paying $3,500 for posting an indemnity bond.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will be ready to resume nuclear weapon testing within a short time if the Russians do not halt their own tests Friday. This assurance came from Chairman John A. McCone of the Atomic Energy Commission today—48 hours before the scheduled start of U.S.-Soviet talks in Geneva on the question of halting all atomic weapon testing.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coal mine explosions such as the two which killed 35 miners this week are more frequent during the period from Oct. 1 through March 31, the Bureau of Mines said today.

This week's explosions in mines near Bishop, Va., and Summersville, W. Va., were the first major explosion disasters listed by the bureau in U.S. coal mines this year. The bureau rates as a major disaster a single accident causing five or more deaths.

FLAG FOR LEE

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Charlottesville's American Legion Post No. 74 wants the flag flown on Gen. Robert E. Lee's birthday—but not the Confederate flag. The post decided to ask local merchants to display the American flag on Lee's birthday because Lee, one of the top generals in the Confederate Army, was a commissioned officer in the U. S. Army before the Civil War.

FINDS BOMB IN SCHOOL

LYNCHBURG, Va. (AP) — A janitor reached into a trash container at the 1,750-pupil E. C. Glass High School Tuesday and came up with a paper bag containing dynamite.

Inserted in the explosive was a cap and running from the cap was a coil of wire. A flashlight battery, not connected to the wire, also was in the bag.

The discovery came after pupils in the white school, where a bombing threat was received last Thursday, had left for home. Authorities had ordered the school evacuated after last week's threat but no explosive was found.

The bomb threat was telephoned to the school office. The caller, believed to have been a young male, said: "We think you should know that a bomb has been placed in the E. C. Glass High School." The caller gave no motive.

Best for the State, Nation and YOU!

George M. Leader

Candidate for United States Senator

George Michael Leader has proved himself one of the most forceful and effective Governors in Pennsylvania's history. His record of accomplishment and his courageous concern with problems of humane need guarantee that he will make an outstanding United States Senator.

Leader became Pennsylvania's 39th Governor on January 18, 1955, just one day after his 37th birthday. He was the first Democrat in 16 years to be elected to the Commonwealth's highest office.

A few of the accomplishments of the Leader Administration:

Pennsylvania was the first state in the nation to move decisively to help combat the national recession. Hundreds of already authorized public works projects—schools, highways, bridges—were pushed far ahead of schedule to create badly needed jobs immediately. This was done without the expenditure of one dime in new taxes.

An effective program was established to bring new industry to Pennsylvania and to foster expansion of industry already here. With the Commonwealth working hand in hand with local communities and private business, more than 54,000 jobs have been provided since 1955. This program has become a model for other states.

The largest program of school construction ever undertaken in any state was carried forward. This means new school facilities for approximately a third of a million Pennsylvania students.

A humane, modern program of care for the mentally ill—based on cure, not custody—is instituted. A model for other states, this program will enable many thousands of men, women and children to become productive citizens again, instead of wards of the state.

Most of elementary and secondary education in the Commonwealth in more than a generation was initiated. This means that students now will get more instruction in English; more instruction in reading; more science; more mathematics, grade by grade—in other words, a better education.

A special education program for mentally and physically handicapped children was made mandatory so that approximately 100,000 children with low IQ's and physical handicaps now are assured a better start in life.

The most extensive road-building program in the history of Pennsylvania was inaugurated. The project embraces the construction of 7,500 miles of high-type roads, hundreds of miles of modern four-lane highways and construction or improvement of more than 700 bridges.

Governor Leader, who is now 40, grew up in York County, where he owns a farm. He attended Gettysburg College and the University of Pennsylvania. During World War II, he served as an officer on the aircraft carrier Randolph. Prior to becoming Governor, he served with distinction in the State Senate. He is married to the former Mary Jane Strickler and has four children.

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS
For Lieutenant Governor

John Morgan Davis of Philadelphia was elected judge of Court of Common Pleas No. 4 on November 6, 1951. He resigned from the bench when he began active campaigning.

He was born in Shenandoah, Pa., August 9, 1906. His family moved shortly thereafter to Reading, where he received his early education. He worked his way through Wharton School of Finance and Commerce and the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

Judge Davis was chief counsel for the Committee of the House of Representatives which investigated Housing in Philadelphia between March and July of 1931.

He was a member of the Trial Board of the Philadelphia Council of Defense charged with responsibility for adjudicating all complaints against Civil Defense personnel. Also, he was Commander of the Control Center during World War II.

He was Presidential Elector for Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman in 1944.

Prior to his election to the bench he served as general counsel of the National Association of Broadcasters and the Philadelphia Radio and Television Broadcasters' Association.

From January, 1950, to January, 1952, Judge Davis was Co-Chairman of the Philadelphia Citizens' Charter Committee, which spearheaded the campaign for adoption of Philadelphia's new Home Rule Charter.

He holds the Distinguished Service Award of the Military Order of the Purple Heart.

Judge Davis is married to the former Eva B. Pierson of Conshohocken. They have three children.

He is a member of the Welsh Society, the American Judicature Society and the Lawyers' Club and Socialegal Club of Philadelphia.

GENEVIEVE BLATT
For Re-election Secretary of Internal Affairs

Genevieve Blatt is the first woman in Pennsylvania to be elected to any State-wide office and the only woman to be endorsed for such office in the 1958 election. She is the first woman to be elected Secretary of Internal Affairs since the office was created in 1873.

She has been Secretary of Internal Affairs since May 3, 1955, and has made that Department of real service to the people of Pennsylvania. She administers five bureaus and serves on numerous boards and commissions.

A practicing attorney and an executive in Municipal and State Government, Miss Blatt served as Secretary and Chief Examiner of the Pittsburgh Civil Service Commission and as assistant City Solicitor of Pittsburgh. From 1945 to 1949, she was in the State Treasury Department as Executive Director and Deputy State Treasurer.

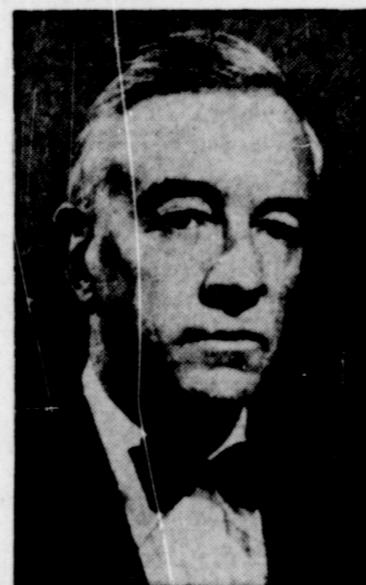

In 1956, she was elected to membership in the Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania.

She is active in the American Association of University Women, the League of Women Voters, the American, Pennsylvania and Allegheny County Bar Associations and the National Association of Women Lawyers.

Her qualities of leadership won her early prominence in the Democratic Party. She served three terms as state president of the Young Democratic Clubs and has been Secretary of the Democratic State Committee since 1948. She was a delegate-at-large and vice chairman of the Pennsylvania Delegation to the Democratic National Convention in 1956.

Born in East Brady, Clarion County, she earned B.A. and M.A. degrees at the University of Pittsburgh, majoring in political science. She was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh Law School and was admitted to the bar in 1938.

JUDGE CURTIS BOK
For Judge of Supreme Court

Judge Curtis Bok—Democratic candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania—has earned a national reputation as one of America's most distinguished jurists. He recently was selected by LIFE magazine for inclusion in a series of articles dealing with outstanding members of the Judiciary.

Son of a famous father—Edward W. Bok, whose name was a household word to an earlier generation of Americans—he has won a full measure of respect and admiration for his own achievements.

For more than 30 years he has been President Judge of Philadelphia's famous "Court of Common Pleas No. 6"—regarded by Bench and Bar as one of the Commonwealth's finest. Earlier he served on the Orphans' Court of Philadelphia County, and as Assistant District Attorney of Philadelphia County.

Born in Wyneotte, Pennsylvania, he received his early education at Chestnut Hill Academy, Philadelphia, and the Hill School, Pottstown. He attended William College, Williamstown, Massachusetts, leaving to enter the United States Navy April 7, 1917, as Quartermaster 3rd Class. He was discharged June 19, 1919, as Lieutenant, Senior Grade. He was graduated from the University of Virginia Law School in 1921.

He is a member of the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and American Bar Associations, and of the American Law Institute.

Married to the former Nellie Lee Holt, of Falls City, Nebraska, he is the father of five children.

JAMES M. QUIGLEY
For Congress

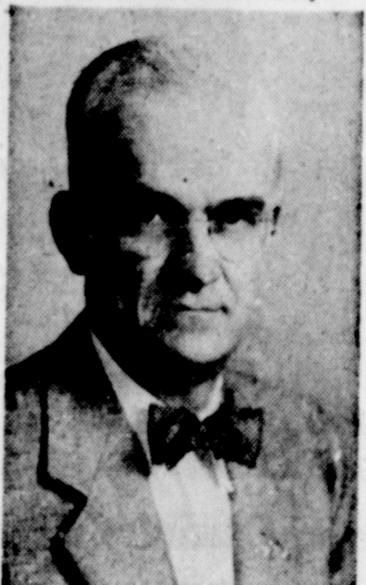

When James M. Quigley served in Congress the people of Adams, Cumberland and York Counties not only had a good congressman—they knew that they had one. Every week by means of press and radio reports Congressman Quigley told the people what he did, how he voted and why.

But the folks home weren't the only ones aware of the job Jim Quigley did in the Congress. Quigley's efforts not only inspired favorable editorial comments in his own district and state but in other states as well. His Congressional activities brought him coverage by such nationally syndicated columnists as Marquis Childs, David Lawrence and Drew Pearson.

An able lawyer and a combat veteran of World War II, Jim Quigley has the courage, the judgment and the fight to give Adams, Cumberland and York Counties the kind of representation in Washington they need and deserve.

VOTED for better schools—for better roads—for civil rights—for increased minimum wages—for improved Social Security—for better retirement for railroad and Federal workers—for higher pay for postal and government employees—for helpful farm programs—for just veterans' benefits—for increased dependent exemptions on your income tax—for a strong national defense—for reciprocal trade—for foreign aid and for a strong foreign policy.

You want our community to receive its full share of State assistance and our State to receive its full share of Federal aid.

You want Pennsylvania to be first again. Mayor Lawrence led the drive that put new life in the city of Pittsburgh. He can do the same for Pennsylvania, but he needs the help of a Democratic Legislature.

You want honest, effective, humanitarian and responsible government.

I am asking you to vote for me because I want to help Dave Lawrence make Pennsylvania first. I sincerely believe I can make our community and our State a better place for all of us.

BUSINESS ON UPSWING BUT PROFITS LAG

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — American business profits are trailing those of last year by 25 per cent with two out of three firms showing declines for the first nine months of 1958.

But the gap slowly but steadily is being narrowed since the grim first three months of the year.

In the first quarter of 1958, the decline from the like period of 1957 was 33 per cent with the industrials off 36 per cent.

At the halfway mark, profits looked a bit better — all business running 32 per cent behind the 1957 figures, with industrials down 35 per cent.

Down 25 Per Cent

Today a better third quarter for many companies gives the nine-month net profits after taxes of the first 461 companies to report a combined total of $5,603,763,000, compared with $7,517,376,600 for the same companies in 1957, a drop of 25.4 per cent.

Declines were reported by 316. Net losses were reported by 23, compared with 13 in the previous year. Red ink was splashed notably over the reports of the auto industry and the Eastern railroads.

Of the 391 industrial firms reporting so far, 276 declined. Combined profits came to $4,415,504,000, against $6,215,264,000 in 1957, a drop of 28.9 per cent.

Utilities mostly went their steady way, showing a gain of 7.7 per cent this year over last. The railroads were down by 38.5 per cent.

Better Quarter

In many cases the third-quarter reports were notably improved over the April-May-June quarter.

And tomorrow looks brighter. Many corporate executives seem sure that the last three months of the year will bring a profit gain over the third quarter and further narrow the gap, with the total for 1958 being not too far behind that for 1957.

The decline this year is marked in some of the nation's leading industries. With two of the Big Three auto makers operating at a loss, the decline for that industry as a whole was 66 per cent.

Most steelmakers are behind last year and the profit declined at the three-quarter mark of the year is 4 per cent. Business is looking up for them now and they predict a better final quarter.

Mining Off

Coal companies suffered along with steel and are trailing 1957 by 42 per cent. Nonferrous mining and metalworking companies slipped until recent weeks and are faring well for rich flavor.

Probe Of Police Bribery To Resume

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Atty. Hubert I. Teitelbaum says a federal grand jury will resume its probe into alleged Pittsburgh police bribery in January.

The special panel completed the Pittsburgh phase of its investigation last Friday and this week turned its attention to alleged rackets in outlying counties and the Wheeling, W. Va., area.

But Wednesday, the jury apparently returned to the Pittsburgh phase with Asst. Police Supt. Lawrence J. Maloney and Patrolman John James made surprise appearances before the grand jury.

Teitelbaum said the appearance of Maloney and James was made necessary because of special information supplied the panel. Testimony is secret.

Both Maloney and James said they had not been subpoenaed, but had been requested to appear by Safety Director Louis Rosenberg.

SEES BETTER YEAR ON FARM

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP) — A Pennsylvania State University agriculture expert predicts farmers in the state will do better financially this year than last.

But, Dr. Fred R. Robertson cautioned, a "temporary income increase within itself does not mean that we are making very much progress in solving the long-run income problem."

Speaking Wednesday at the 86th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Grange, the agricultural extension economist added:

"Agriculture is about the only sector of the American economy that has been put through the economic wringer since the end of World War II. The fact that agriculture has already been substantially deflated helped in weathering the recent recession."

The Grange conferred its sixth Degree Wednesday night on more than 500 members from throughout the state.

36 per cent below year ago earnings.

Almost all oil companies are making less this year than last, the gap now being 29 per cent.

On the happier side, the office equipment makers, tobacco companies, food and beverage firms, and airlines join the utilities in reporting better profits this year than last. Most drug companies do too, but three of them had declines enough to pull the total for the 11 down by 4 per cent.

Dr. Press outlined his suggestion at the 86th annual meeting of the APHA.

PROPOSES WAY TO CUT SUICIDE RATE IN U. S.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A nationwide "suicide control" system was proposed today by a public health specialist.

Dr. Edward Press of New York, director of field services for the American Public Health Assn., suggested:

1. Establishment of a kind of "suicide control center" in every community of substantial size. The around-the-clock center would receive reports of all attempted suicides in the area. It would promptly initiate a system aimed at preventing a further attempt in a given case — a system involving various local governments.

2. Establishment of a nationwide network of state and local "societies for the prevention of suicides." These would operate something like present organizations aimed at the control and prevention of such conditions as cerebral palsy, deafness and blindness.

Dr. Press outlined his suggestion at the 86th annual meeting of the APHA.

Under his idea, any person attempting suicide would be transferred, after receiving physical treatment, to the psychiatric division of a hospital and kept under constant surveillance for at least 48 hours.

Once the patient were returned to his home, follow-up visits, aimed at rehabilitation would be the responsibility of the local health department.

CRUSHED BY TRACTOR

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — William Lago, 48-year-old farmer, was crushed to death by a tractor Wednesday on the farm of Tom Hilman of Hollidaysburg, R. D. 2.

Lago got off the tractor to hook on a drilling device and left the gear in forward motion. The tractor surged forward and pinned him.

He said he would seek "to help in the construction of local two-year colleges to bring higher education within commuting distance of every young person who can offer to test prices."

Politics

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Leader today promised he would fight "for an ethical practices law that applies to every person in government service" if he is elected to the U. S. Senate.

In a speech prepared for a Democratic reception in Stroudsburg, Leader said such a law would ensure "that nobody will be accepting expensive coats—whether they are mink or vicuna—from people seeking favored treatment from the government."

Leader also promised to fight for re-enactment of the Area Retirement Bill, vetoed by President Eisenhower after the last session of Congress.

He also promised to "work to have the federal government assume its fair share of the increasing cost of education in order to prevent an intolerable burden on local property taxes" and to "support measures . . . to provide scholarships for bright young men and women who could not otherwise go on to college."

New Pope Has Five Cousins In Penna.

ST. MARYS, Pa. (AP) — Five brothers and sisters living in western Pennsylvania are second cousins of Pope John XXIII.

Their father, the late Joseph Carrara, was a first cousin of Pope John. Both came from the Bergamo section of Italy.

The second cousins are Mrs. John Ferragine, who lives near St. Marys; Joseph Carrara Jr., of nearby Kersey; Albert Carrara and Mrs. Pauline Bielecki, both of Lawrence, Washington County; and Anthony Carrara of Vandergrift.

First, they keep prices up in the farm belt states and thereby force Pennsylvania farmers to pay higher prices for grain and feed for their cattle and poultry.

Agree Pasternak Turned Down Nobel Prize After "Pressure"

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three Western Nobel prize-winning authors agreed today that Boris Pasternak turned down his 1958 award because of pressure from the Soviet government, not because he agreed with the Kremlin's condemnation of his work.

The 68-year-old Russian writer was awarded the $41,420 prize a week ago for his poetry and his novel, "Doctor Zhivago," which describes the loss of freedom in Soviet society. The novel is a best-seller in the West but has been suppressed in the Soviet Union.

Wednesday, after a government campaign of vilification in which the Nobel committee was accused of playing cold war politics, Pasternak cabled the Swedish Royal Academy of Letters that he was refusing the prize "because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in."

Not His Choice

"Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will," he added. Previously he had messaged that he was "immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed" by the honor.

France's Albert Camus, winner of the 1957 Nobel Prize for Literature, commented, "I don't believe Pasternak refused the Nobel Prize of his own free will . . ."

Earl Bertrand Russell, 86-year-old British philosopher who won the 1950 prize, said he was "disgusted with the Russians' attitude to this from the start. Knowing the Russian way of life as we do, we may well think that Pasternak had no alternative but to reject this prize."

Join In Plea

He joined another Nobel winner, poet T. S. Eliot, and several other leading British writers in a plea to the Soviet Writers Union not to victimize Pasternak. The union, a prime organ of government control of Soviet writers, already had expelled Pasternak from its ranks.

Pearl Buck, American author of "The Good Earth" and the 1938 winner, said she was "deeply saddened" that Pasternak was not permitted to accept the prize.

"The rejection, which no doubt was made under pressure, does not alter his world stature as a writer," she added. "It does reflect, most unfortunately, upon upon his government and his compatriots."

Won't Change Decision

Dr. Anders Oesterling, secretary of the Swedish awarding committee, said Pasternak would still go down in history as the 1958 Nobel Prize winner whether the Russi-

CARDINALS PAY POPE HOMAGE

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The College of Cardinals paid formal homage to Pope John XXIII today for the third successive day.

The new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church was seated on his throne before the altar of the Sistine Chapel. One by one, the princes of the church who elected him two days ago approached, knelt and kissed his hand.

The cardinals made their first act of obeisance to the new Pope immediately after his election Tuesday. Their second homage was performed Wednesday just before Pope John made his first radio address to the world, an appeal for peace.

Officials of the Vatican, meanwhile, were busy with preparations for the coronation of Pope John next Tuesday, Nov. 4. The most colorful of all ceremonies of the Roman Catholic Church, it likely will be televised throughout Western Europe.

So far no coronation schedule has been announced.

Camera News

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

A couple of new photo products have been announced to be available in a month or two.

One of them is a Polaroid 4x5 film holder which converts a 4 x 5 press-type camera to picture-in-a-minute photography. Two types of 4 x 5 inch Polaroid film can be used. One has an acetate base which can be processed in a darkroom so that besides obtaining the usual 60-second print, you can get a conventional negative for duplicate prints or enlargements.

The second new item is a still camera in which an electric eye calculates the lighting and adjusts the exposure setting. Called the Revere Electric Eye-Matic, all the snapshooter has to do with it is sight his subject and press the button.

The new films come in single paper packets. In use, one of these is slipped into the film holder. Its tip end is grasped and pulled out. This is like pulling out the dark slide on a regular holder and brings the sensitive film into exposure position.

After the picture is snapped, the protective paper envelope is returned to position. At this point, the picture can be processed to yield a print in one minute or the entire packet can be removed to be processed later.

Development is accomplished by flipping a lever on the film holder while the paper packet is in it. This crushes the pod of developer inside the packet and when the packet is pulled out of the holder, it is spread over the emulsion area. In 60 seconds, the packet is pulled apart and the print is ready.

Get Permanent Negative

If a permanent negative were wanted, along with the one-minute print, it is necessary to shoot with the 4 x 5 Professional Pan Type 53 film. This is the one with an acetate base whereas the other type has a paper base.

Secondly, it is necessary to separate the print from the negative, after the 60 seconds of development, in a darkroom or a changing bag. No light must reach the negative.

The negative must then be washed in a Kodak bath to remove the sticky reagent and then redeveloped for six minutes in an S-101 formula. Then it is fixed in hypo, washed and dried like a normal negative . . . which is now is.

To get back to the new electric eye automatic still camera: It looks like a 35 mm camera, but it takes 127 roll film to produce 12 pictures, 1 1/2 x 1 1/2 inches.

It has a Wollensak f/2.8 lens and an automatic film advance. It has no speed settings and no f/stops on the lens. The electric eye needs no batteries to change the exposure controls. There is an adjustment for different speeds of film.

Revere isn't saying, as yet, whether it's a fixed speed and fixed focus camera (like a box camera) and just how the electric eye informs the photographer when the light is insufficient for a good exposure.
